The Evolutionary Merging of Worlds.

By Hasim

It is important to understand that the elemental and human worlds are going through comparable simultaneous evolutions and it is very important that these steps are taken in a synchronised fashion. Humankind and the elemental worlds have been on separate evolutionary paths but now these paths are beginning to converge and this will alter your perception of what you perceive as the physical world.

You are aware that the Earth is changing; the changes are most noticeable in patterns of weather and climatic conditions. This is planetary evolution in action. Anthropogenic structures (political, commerce..etc) will have to adjust to this changeable situation.

Humankind's present understanding of the physical world is a hologram, a reflection consciousness and awareness. Humans have explained the physical world through laws of physics, that describe what should happen under a given set of circumstances. When confronted by events unexplainable by these laws, human tendency is to respond by ignoring them, or classifying them as "paranormal" or as "some kind of miracle".

A growing of awareness of the elemental worlds is crucial for humanity just as an understanding of humankind is important to the elemental worlds. In the past many of the elemental energies were uninterested in man's activities but now they cannot afford to be because humanity has become powerful in a physical / material way and is set to evolve psychically; something that will completely change the present understanding of the physical world. The enormity and complexity of the natural worlds; the outer atmosphere, inner Earth, outer Earth, sky, the air, the animals, plants, vegetables and the elves, gnomes and pixies will become apparent.

Elemental beings are cautious but if human beings reach out to those elemental energies they are now much more likely to receive a sympathetic response. All that is needed is to form a conscious intent in your minds that you wish to commune and empathise and things will happen, because they are ready to reach out as soon as you reach out to them.

Humankind is certainly heading for a "new normal" but not in the context that it is currently talked about. On behalf of the elemental worlds I invite you all to embark on a new journey of experience and discovery.

An Open Invitation

By Jeffrey Gale

An open invitation to you lovers of tis land, to come to our gathering held around the stone table on Table Tor...

Bring your sacrificial gifts of incense, wine, fruits and flat breads to bake by the fire...

Wear your finest cloaks and hats, for we will celebrate together this sun high solstice, with our songs and chants to drink our health to our common soul...

Gathered here on this rocky height, we will all be in one mind. Only here the priests will be musicians, troubadours and poets, whose songs will merge with the howling winds of this bleakly battered moor...

Come Sun descending, the cooler air is warmed by many fires on shining tors across undulating moors, now golden, now purple blues, as the sky gods build huge dark clouds edged in gold...

So now is right to light our incense while we pass around the wine, our fruits and heated flatbreads; Later our drums, lutes and flutes make rhythms with our songs...

Then suddenly a giant clap of thunder rolls across the moor and sky, as if to make its timely presence felt, saying here I am, and always will be stern guardians to the gateways of the underworld
