VOLUME 2, ISSUE 1.

January 2007

Dear WRGN Supporters,

2007 beckons and there are some exciting developments to report. The WRGNetwork has grown to accommodate World in our Hands and Hospice of the Heart. World in Our Hands coordinates a network of groups in the South and East of England, produces a newsletter (Spiritual Forum) and operates a holistic television channel. Described as the world's first on-line hospice, Hospice of the Heart is organising a series of (non-virtual) monthly workshops from January.

The Weymouth and Dorchester group are also planning a series of workshops. The group is now meeting on a Wednesday and at a new venue. Yeovil Psychic Society launch a web site www.yeovilpsychics.co.uk and FISU and Openhand are both starting a series of courses in the North and East of Scotland. Tickets are now available for the Unexplained Mysteries Conference (email spring.conference@virgin.net).

The January 2007 newsletter contains a full list of the events for the month ahead, literary contributions from Rudolf Steiner and Emma Morriss, and a review of a book by R. E. Slater called Paradise Reconsidered; 9/11 and 7/7 Reincarnation and the lost Gospel of Jesus.

Christmas and the Awakening of Man by Russell Evans and the Prophetic Alliance of the Druidic and Mayan Calendars by Mark Heley, are the latest lectures to be added to the on-line digital archive. The latest addition to the on-line article archive is the Nature of Magic by Gordon Strong.

Six Starts to the New Year - key exercises to inner development

Concerned (at the turn of the twentieth century) that lifestyles were beginning to lack regularity and routine, Rudolf Steiner devised six exercises to supplement existing meditations or practices and so prevent the individual being starved of the energies of renewal. Circulated in December 1905 they might today be thought of as Chakra exercises. The underlying aim is to infuse rhythm and so harmony in to chaotic lifestyles. "Everything in the system of nature is rhythmic. Only human beings lead a chaotic life: has nature abandoned human beings or have we abandoned nature?"

Mastery of thought For a short time each day, stop the flow of thoughts through your mind and for a space of time to allow peace and tranquillity to enter your thinking. Think of a definite idea, place it in the centre of your thinking and logically arrange your thoughts so that they are all closely related to the original idea. To do this for only a minute each day can be very important for the rhythm of the physical and Etheric bodies. Rhythm restores Power!

Mastery of action Each day perform some action, however trivial that originates with your own initiative. This is some task you have assigned yourself. Most actions are a response to family circumstances, education, vocation, and so on. Consider how little arises as the result of your own initiative and spend time performing acts derived from you only. They need not be important; very insignificant actions accomplish the same purpose.

Equanimity Regulate your emotions to develop the qualities of detachment and imperturbability so that you master yourself through the greatest joys and the deepest grief.

Impartiality or freedom from prejudice Look for the goodness in everything and for the positive elements everywhere. Through developing tolerance you will gain an understanding of everything and of every being.

Complete openness Always allow for the possibility of belief and remain open to new experiences. Esoteric development involves excluding all that you have experienced thus far so that you can consciously meet each new experience with new faith.

Inner balance Development of the other five qualities will cultivate a feeling for freedom so that we can act freely and rise above those dangers that can occur from the divisions in human nature.

A fuller description of this work can be found in Start Now! A Book of Soul and Spiritual Exercises published by Steiner Books (2004)

Book Review

Paradise Reconsidered 9/11 &
7/7 Reincarnation and the Lost Gospel of Jesus By R.E. Slater

This book contains an overview of the Western History and theory of reincarnation set in the context of 9/11 which raised questions not easily answered by standard theological perspectives. It explains why reincarnation came to be excluded from religious debate within churches, includes biblical verses that are indicative of belief in reincarnation or the pre-existence of a soul and contains references to a lost unified gospel with unambiguous teachings by Jesus concerning reincarnation. What Is Energy Healing?

By Emma Morriss

As an Energy Healer a question that I am often asked is how does Energy Healing differ to Reiki or Spiritual Healing?

All healing comes from the same universal consciousness that naturally moves towards health and well-being. We all have that universal intelligence within us and we are all surrounded by a dynamic force-field of energy that is designed to feed us with life energy.

All forms of healing tap into this consciousness but in different ways. One might say that there is a spectrum of energetic frequencies available for use in healing. Different healing methods are attuning to certain bandwidths within that spectrum.

Energy Healing is a full-spectrum approach to healing, which works with a map of consciousness called the human energy field. It works by tracing symptoms back to their energetic causes within the subtle bodies.

The Etheric Body is composed of the meridians and acupuncture points. This subtle body is a structured web of energy that maintains the health of our physical body. It can be weakened by various factors including: electromagnetic pollution, poor diet, sedentary lifestyle, genetic factors and karmic patterning in the astral body.

The Emotional Body is composed of clouds of emotional energy. If there is emotional suppression, there will be stagnation in the energy field, which will ultimately impact on the Etheric Body and lead to physical symptoms.

The Mental Body is where we hold our thought forms. Thinking does not only happen in the brain, each cell in our body is conditioned by the thoughts we have. This web of mental energy affects our emotional and physical well-being.

The Astral Body is an emotional body where we hold memories of all past experiences. This carries an imprint or conditioning that determines how we perceive reality. It is a creative imprint and functions like a mould so that we are constantly recreating the present out of old habits and patterns, until we clear the unhealthy conditioning.

The Etheric Template holds the divine blueprint of our true physical potential. In psychic surgery, it is used in conjunction with the Etheric Body to bring about healing on the physical level. It is also necessary to heal the emotional and spiritual bodies before full physical health manifests.

The Celestial Body is where we find our inspiration and unconditional love for ourselves and others. This consciousness is always available to uplift us, yet sometimes we are surrounded by denser frequencies in the other bodies, which cloud our perception so we don't notice that the sun is still shining.

The Causal Body is the body of our divine wisdom. It is where we rest in being, knowing our true nature and feeling our connectedness to existence. We feel ourselves to be an integral, perfect part of the divine symphony. We surrender to the mystery of it all. The question 'why am I here?' disappears and we are left knowing in wonder.

The three year professional training in Energy Healing is the first of its kind in the UK. Trainees come from all walks of life. Often students remark that the training brings together many various healing techniques into a comprehensive holistic approach. Students who have trained in various different therapies find that energy healing naturally incorporates and integrates them. Students who have no experience in complementary health can easily use energy healing tools to treat others from the very first week, or even weekend, of training. It is remarkable how quickly it can be learnt.

As well as a professional training, it is a profound journey of self-transformation through which we can become whole again. We can become embodied in all aspects of our being. We can clear the patterns in our energy field that keep us stuck in limiting patterns from the past. We can grow into our highest potential and be part of the expansion of consciousness that is happening on the planet now. We can learn to anchor the healing frequencies that are here with us now and use them to heal ourselves and others. We can help bring about planetary awakening. It is happening now, we are all part of it.
