VOLUME 4, ISSUE 7.

July 2009

July and a welcome to the Lightworker Development Group in based in Weymouth and to Joachim Koch from Germany who will be visiting Avebury in July as part of the Wansdyke Path Project.

The Old Religion: The Psychic and Spiritual Craft of these Isles by Serena Roney Dougal is the latest addition to the on-line digital lecture archive with the Reappearance of Christ by Alice Bailey the latest addition to the on-line article archive.

The Cosmic Template by Jay Risdon

The realisation by each and every human being that we are more than just flesh, bones and blood might yet prove to be the revelation of our time. Grasping the idea of the existence of a higher self, might then lead us to also consider that we exist as inter-dimensional beings; part of a universal web of interconnectivity extending beyond our existence of physicality and on to those higher planes of love and light.

The Cosmic Template (pictured opposite) illustrates the relationship between our higher self that exists in the plane of spirit and our earthly lives as human beings incarnate in a physical body. In many respects it represents a template for all aspects of evolving consciousness (in human form or otherwise).

The top (head) part of the diagram depicts the Monad (or higher self aspect of the soul) which works with our spirit guides to develop the different aspects of the lower self, bringing them in to balance. The Higher Self is represented by the colour Pink. The main aspects of the Self are shown as the physical (green), the mental or thinking (blue) and the astral or intuitive (purple). We might think of ourselves as a column with the Monad (Higher Self) at the top and the physical body at the base.

Despite our existence in a physical form (a body) we retain a lifetime connection with our Higher Self or soul through what is known as our etheric (or subtle energy) body. This connection is depicted by the golden colour that extends right through the diagram to the level of physical existence (depicted by the green cross and ball at the base of the picture). The Etheric Body could be thought of as a structure of vital forces or energies and when death comes, it returns to source and the Physical Body collapses and disintegrates.

It is the in-balances that exist between the aspects of the self that determine our character and response to experience whilst in a physical form.

Picture: The Cosmic Template

For example a person might be strong in the mental or logical thought aspect and so good at practical tasks that require structure and detail. Another might lean to the astral or intuitive aspect and less to the practical. The Higher Self works to collate the mental and astral (intuitive) aspects of the self working through the physical aspect bringing them in to balance at a soul level; all within the higher total love of the Monad (Higher Self). This is achieved through successive incarnations into a physical form (a body), allowing us to learn through experience.

Our challenge is to evolve through our free will into beings of unconditional love and we currently stand at a point in our evolution when the Higher Self wants to unite with the Human Being, transforming the Astral body and its emotions, the Etheric body, and then, finally the Physical body.

This unification is something that by the nature of our spiritual evolution, we are called upon to do out of our own freedom, from our own initiative. An important step in the process is the mastery of ego; lifting ourselves out of a longing to gratify desire, greed and all the negative selfish emotions and modelling ourselves on our highest ideals. We would then give ourselves over as channels for the Higher Self, allowing the flooding of wholeness which is an unconditional love of all other beings and kinship with all life to resonate through our very being.

This deliberate uplifting in to the stream of light and love will lead to the birthing of a new humanity; one which places unconditional love and service to others at its centre without seeking to manipulate or control others. The Ego, lifted out of the automatic and selfish reaction, begins to take conscious constructive control of its whole being, as a facet of the enormous whole. This might be construed as the outpourings of the waters of Aquarius, where we learn to identify with the totality of humanity as a vast being, ceasing to identify with our separated and embodied self.

To emerge into the New Humanity the principal aspects of the self must come to balance as must our masculine and feminine aspects; the two sides of the brain working in cooperation to establish conscious control of the self. The new human then begins to lift in to a body which is capable of becoming a new humanity.

For those that wish to engage in this process of uniting with our Higher Self, we must not only bring it right down in to our daily living as the highest member in our embodiment, but radiate our love and selflessness out to others in the hope that we may assist them in taking the journey.

This is a scenario without precedent but together we can lift humanity in to a new harmony. Each of us can contribute and in doing so accelerate the development of our soul as an aspect of consciousness. Working in partnership with the spiritual worlds we can fulfil a stage in human evolution, timed to happen at the threshold of entry in to the Aquarian Age knowing that we were part of the true awakening of humanity.

Book Review: The Soul. The Quality of Life. Compiled from the works of Alice Bailey and the Master Djwhal Khul

This work is a wide ranging compilation revealing the qualities of the soul and its relationships. It considers the nature of man, the angel of the presence, soul cycles, the soul and the divine will, the creative nature of the soul, guidance by the soul, spiritual evolution and liberation and meditation.
