VOLUME 4, ISSUE 10.

October 2009

October and a welcome to the Theosophical Society in Scotland, the Satvik Energy Training School at Stoke Trister, and the newly formed Fountain Group based at Bradford on Avon.

The latest additions to the Wessex Network blog; <http://wessexresearchgroup.blogspot.com> are Reality and the Paranormal, Walking with Spirit and Cosmic Soup; the Ocean of Thought and Consciousness. Spirit Release by Jane Satchwell is the newest addition to the on-line digital lecture archive. Jane will also be speaking on this subject in Bristol in October.

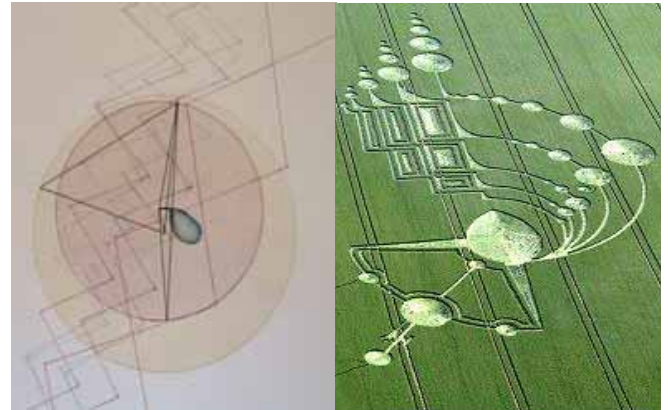

The Outpourings of Aquarius by Hasim

Physically, liquid water is man's source of life: he needs water to drink even more than food to eat. Similarly the subtle element of water is also vital to mankind; it is the essential nourishment for man's soul. Without it he is nothing, he would shrivel and die away, because without his soul man's body would die.

The element of water and mankind are inextricably linked together - they cannot exist without one another. On this subtle level the water needs mankind as much as man needs water, though this does not apply on a physical level. For man, water forms the chalice of life but the chalice amounts to nothing unless it is used. The chalice only becomes clear and valuable when the water flows freely. It only flows when it is drunk and in the great scheme of things it can only be drunk by mankind.

The chalice contains the water of life. For this reason the chalice is the source of knowledge, because life is knowledge. The stream of knowledge flows from generation to generation and the fountain of knowledge and the fountain of life are one and the same. This is why the well-head is now so precious. It is important that the water is clear and unpolluted and we nurture ourselves to be the same.

So then clarity of the fountain is vitally important. The clarity concerns us now because we have the power to clarify this water. It is as though the stream is clouded and by scattering finings across the water the silt can be settled to the bottom and the clear water drunk. The finings are the practical examples that we set to others. By your example of living you are able to clarify the water of life. To be effective the finings have to be scattered widely and evenly.

Two images depicting planetary re-alignment

The refinement of individual thought can be connected via the channels of the earth's inherent energy grid

So our function as forerunners is to clear the waters to allow deep draughts to be drunk in the future. This is our task. The Age of Aquarius cannot come about until the waters are refined and cleared. The pitcher must be full of clear water before it can be poured. When the cleared water is drunk, the illumination for the world can be digested and understood. If the water is not clear the result would be Montezuma's Revenge! Clarity of thought is the essence and this clarity comes from love. Love is the prerequisite. Following love comes non-attachment to possessions, or even to people, and secondly comes active service which forms the physical expression of the refining thought. Love of mankind must inevitably lead to the activity of service.

We are the forerunners and with the refiner's fire we can stimulate change. After the change the water will need to be drunk, but only after it has been cleared. The water is powerful and as we use this power we are not always aware of the results, leading to imbalances. We must therefore be careful and always check what we are attempting to achieve, namely love and its inevitable consequence of service.

As the changes start you will find it hard to maintain that clarity of vision when all about you are grasping at straws. The way to keep steady is to return to the source. It is easy to see how a clouded thought-form can become spread and as it becomes fashionable it can generate a power of its own. Welcome to the Age of Aquarius, of clear pure water, of true knowledge. But the pitcher full of water is useless. It only becomes useful when it is poured and this knowledge given out.

Book Review: Crop Circles - The Evidence. By Janet Ossebard

Crop Circles - The Evidence is the second book in a series of eight about the crop circle phenomenon. This volume presents evidence that most crop circles are not made by people, but by an unknown intelligence wishing to communicate with humanity. The evidence varies from scientific discoveries to eyewitness accounts of people who have seen a crop formation being formed. We may chose to ignore the evidence but to do so is to ignore the dawn of a new multi-dimensional age. For further information log on to www.circularsite.com

Fifth Dimensional Consciousness By Andrew Smith

Words may not be adequate to describe this level of consciousness, which is essentially non-verbal. As we evolve further into a fifth dimensional existence, verbal communication will gradually be replaced by 'wave communication' (telepathic in essence) allowing whole multidimensional concepts, pictures, desired actions, and deep understandings to be transferred in an instant. This will become the normal mode of communication, with the spiritual, emotional, mental and physical environments, changing to support this enlightened way of being.

Through experiencing a consciousness of connection to all that is, an eternal sense of belonging, a continuous and growing consciousness of the evolving Divine Plan and how our part of it relates to a greater whole, we will rediscover ourselves as cosmic beings.
