VOLUME 6, ISSUE 12.

December 2011

From Forres to Davistow, December is endowed with a wonderful array of festive events and celebrations. We also welcome the Spiritual Workers Association (SWA) to the Wessex network.

The Spiritual Workers Association is a UK based Guild of Spiritual Workers and Spiritualistic Service Providers and an international umbrella group for all spiritual minded people. It brings spiritual organisations and independents together from across the world, aiming to promote excellence and improve standards in the field of spiritual work.

The SWA will soon be offering a Professional Award in "The Provision of Spiritualistic Services". It is the first ever professional award certificate for Spiritual Workers that carries a qualification backed by a professional certification board and will therefore be recognised across all sectors in the UK and Europe. Full details of the course and of the work of the SWA can be found by logging on to www.theswa.org.uk

Planetary Acupuncture and the Brightening of Albion By Dean Carter

The energetic system of the aura and cakras is now becoming relatively well-known to those interested in esoteric subjects in the West. All spiritual systems from the alchemists to the Hopi Indians can be demonstrated to work with this energetic blueprint; hardly surprising as all sentient beings are by definition energy systems of this type, and vice versa. Our planet, Gaia, our Mother Earth, (EARTH is an anagram of HEART) like other sentient beings has therefore an energetic blueprint of the same type.

For some time members of the overtone circle at the Centre for Pure Sound have been working with Earth energy using sacred sound. Efforts have been, mainly focussed on the Glastonbury area in Somerset, working towards providing sonic acupuncture for this major cakra of the planet.

Most people reading this article will know of Glastonbury Tor's strategic energetic importance as part of the Michael-Mary line, itself part of the Rainbow Serpent around the planet. The Tor and the other sacred hills of Avalon are also dedicated to an Archangel / Buddha / Element.

Our work has now turned towards other energy points in the Wessex landscape, which we are addressing sonically at the key turning points of the Wheel of the Year, the Equinoxes and Solstices. For example we were working in the magnificent acoustics and sacred geometry of the Abbot's Kitchen at Mabon this year, and will be at Cadbury Castle (Camelot) at Yule.

An important aspect of this work involves establishing the 'Soul Note' or 'Personal Sonic' of each participant. Once this has been established this knowledge can then be used in both personal and planetary healing.

We are all part of the Earth, all part of a great interconnected matrix of life and consciousness. Given that our human evolution is closely tied in with that of the Earth's it is important that we attempt to resonate our consciousness indeed our very vibration with our home during this time of great transition.

Soundbaths using crystal and Tibetan bowls and vocal overtone to provide cakra / aura cleansing and balancing and meditation can all help bring us in to a higher alignment. Overtone Circles; where through use of toning, overtone, mantra, and pranayam you can easily learn a form of voice meditation which can give you the tools all help to give yourself and others a soundbath/sonic meditation every day of your life.

Guidance tells me it is now time to open this work up to a larger number of participants so that we might help the passage of our home planet and ourselves to a higher state of being. If you are interested in the idea of planetary healing using sound please contact me, Dean by emailing ahiahel@live.com or by logging on to the Centre for Pure Sound web page which is located at http://wessexresearchgroup.org/groups/dorset\_cps.html

All Heal

Between the earth and the stars,
it hangs like a threat of love,
a promise of bliss.

White bubbles to burst on your lips like a kiss.

This is old druid magic, ancient fertility rite in your living, room, live in front of plasma screen.
Raise a glass to the golden bough,
to Baldur's bane,
Aeneas' passport to Hades and back.

On oak and lime and apple,
how the mistletoe glows like a swarm of green bees,
berries of awen waiting for the glint of sickle,
in the virgin midwinter sun.

Book Review: The Great Year. Understanding 2012 and Beyond

By Ian Thorp

The year in which the Mayan calendar comes to an end some people believe heralds the end of the world. Is it a portent of doom or is there another more profound explanation? If there is, could you pass on this knowledge to your children [or other adults] in a way in which they would understand? Would you understand it yourself?

Help is at hand. This beautifully illustrated book is written in such a way as to appeal to adults and children alike. It is both informative and thoroughly enjoyable.

The author takes the stand that 2012 is most certainly NOT the end of the world, but merely the end of the calendar with which the Mayans, with their understanding of precession, could predict the end of the Great Cycle [25,630 years] or Great Year i.e. once the sun has risen through all the signs of the zodiac. On 21st December 2012 this cycle will have been completed and a new Great Year will begin.

The astronomical explanations from ancient times to the present are clearly put forward with easy to read diagrams. But this is no text book. It is written as a tale, myth, legend with scientific underpinning about a boy who finds himself on a mystical journey of discovery through the cosmos. He learns [as does the reader] about the earth's orbit, seasons, the moon, the planets and their interrelated movements. And just as importantly, how to use his imagination for the positive benefit of mankind. The book can be ordered from Ian by phone (01202 848352) or through www.transpersonalbooks.com

Book Review: Dead Man Talking (a novel about life, death and love)

By Ian Lawton

Michael is a confident, handsome, self-made man who sells exotic cars. He lives in a fine mansion with his beautiful, devoted wife Sinead and newborn son Zak. Life is all he could want it to be, and God is for losers and dreamers.

One fateful night, everything in his life is turned upside down by a terrible accident that leaves Sinead dead and him barely alive.

His strange experiences while in coma lead him to search for answers. Wheelchair-bound and helpless, he comes to rely heavily on Jocasta, the new age, hippy-chick mother-in-law he once despised.

Yet nothing he discovers can prepare him for what lies ahead when his battered body finally succumbs, and reunion with his beloved Sinead beckons. For further information about this and other books by Ian log on to <http://ianlawton.com>

Book Review: Turning the Wheel

By Kevan Manwaring

On two wheels across Britain 'Bard on a Bike' Kevan Manwaring searches out the places and people who mark the seasons and cycles in their own special way – in ceremonies and festivals both private and public, large and intimate, ancient and modern. Along the way, he experiences and relates moments of sacred time found in the unlikeliest of places and circumstances, showing how it is a state of mind that can be experienced not only at sacred sites, but in the everyday. A collection of reflections about being fully alive in the Twenty First century, as much a useful guide for the curious, Turning the Wheel is a wise and witty account of a leather-clad time-traveller. Turning the Wheel is published by O Books, www.o-books.com/book/detail/980/Turning-the-Wheel

Book Review: Intervention Theory Essentials

By Lloyd Pie

Intervention Theory challenges Creationism, Intelligent Design, and Evolution, by offering plausible explanations for many of the conundrums left unanswered by those other theories. This new eBook shows how and why so much of what mainstream science professes is not just wrong, but blatantly, willfully wrong, often in the face of evidence that would be overwhelming in any court in the world. Its revelations are astonishing, but they are presented in simple terms and concepts easily grasped by anyone.

The book begins with a consideration of the true origins of the universe; then to the origin of life itself, which almost no one understands; then to the fits and starts when new forms of ever more complex life seem to be brought to Earth on a schedule rather than to have developed here.

Learn little-known details about the Minnesota Iceman, a hominoid murdered in cold blood and doomed to years of display frozen in a block of ice. Learn even more about Zana, a well-researched Russian hominoid who has left behind living hybrid descendants (the eBook contains photos of one of her sons, a grandson, and several other descendants!) Most of all, find out why Lloyd Pye strongly suggests that Intragalactic Terraformers are much more likely to be the actual source of life on Earth than anything Creationism or Evolution can hope to rationally account for.

If you have an open mind and are inclined to question authority, this new eBook has been written for you. It has 350 pages, 230 photos and illustrations, and is 40,000 words long, which requires about 3 hours for an average reader to complete. Those 3 hours will change your worldview in ways you can't imagine now, but which Lloyd Pye believes will be an experience you will want to share with any other open-minded people that you know. This eBook is available from www.lloydpye.com
