October 2015

October beckons, a month associated with the ending of old cycles and the beginning of new ones.

The Transition of Ages

By Roy Snelling

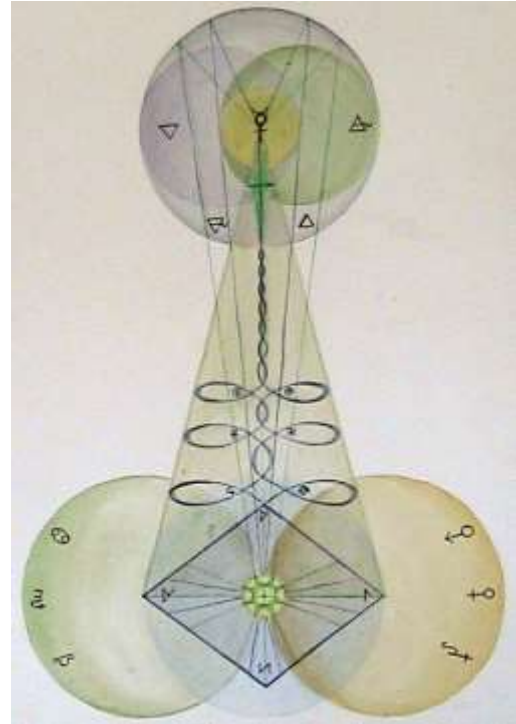

I was aware of the beginning of the entry of the Aquarian energies into the Planet around 1964, prior to the phasing out of the Piscean energies in 2000, a total overlap period of 36 years.

A Zodiac Age is 2160 years long, being a twelfth part of a total Precession of 25,920 years (i.e. nearly 26,000 years). That the Piscean Age phased out finally in year 2000 has nothing to do with the 'Millennium' as the calendar that is used in the West is man-made and does not relate to natural cycles.

The Piscean Age phased out 2000 years after Christ is purely co-incidental. That Age actually began about 160 B.C. at the time that the expanding Roman Empire defeated a Greek Army in Macedonia, thereby replacing Hellenic influence in the Eastern Mediterranean with Roman rule. 2000 minus 1964 is 36 years, which is $\frac{1}{60}$ th part of 2160. $\frac{1}{3}$ rd of 36 is 12, thus 2012 is the year when the Aquarian energies in the Planet, freed of the dying Piscean influences, will have built up sufficient strength to bring about major changes to Man's and the Planet's level of consciousness.

Like the twelve days after Christmas, it is the Aquarian Epiphany when the re-fertilized Earth will bring back new life. Life will not be the same again after this date! During the period of transition various spiritual powers (archangels, angels, devas, elementals, ascended Masters, extra-terrestrials – I do not wish to speculate as to what or who has been involved) have been working away making changes to the Earth's Etheric Matrix and Spiritual energy fields so that the Planet would be ready to function in the New Age on a raised level of consciousness.

Much of the inner work on the Planet has been completed, with the higher energies now permeating down and beginning to change the atomic structure of the material plane. It is felt that the time has now come whereby enlightened people world-wide can use the Planetary Matrix to send healing, loving energy into the Planet. Do we not do this when we move into a new house, to imbue it with our 'best' presence as our new 'home'. Let us do the same for our extended home our Mother Gaia, to accept responsibility individually and collectively for our part, together with other beings, to prepare our new extended home for its new life. Treading the paths of ley lines, giving our peace and love to a local standing stone or ancient church. Guarding any negative thoughts or feelings we may have, that they are not left to permeate the Etheric and Spiritual bodies of the Planet, let alone the collective consciousness of our Humanity, thereby avoiding its Collective Shadow.

Some of the above may read like doom and gloom to the reader, but this would only be a 'human' perception. The Planet is an evolving Being, and we must learn to 'read' her properly and evolve and live in harmony with her. We will never be able to 'master' her for our own selfish ends for She will always bring herself back into balance, possibly to our cost. When we learn more about the underlying structures that energise the Planet and use wisely the energies radiating from such, humanity collectively will be ready to take its place in working constructively with the Solar and Galaxy intelligences. We will then be ready to work with the deva's and elementals in repairing and reconstructing the Earth to the benefit of all beings living on the Planet. Samhain

By Maria Viner

As we reach the end of Autumn and Winter begins, we celebrate Samhain, the Festival marking nature's cycle of death and renewal, the end and the beginning of the year, and the Feast of the Dead. It is also the time when the last of the crops are gathered known as "Harvest Home," and has been traditionally celebrated with fairs and festivals.

Samhain is a very spiritual and magical time, the days are getting shorter and start to darken. October 31 falls exactly between the Autumnal Equinox and the Winter Solstice and is considered a very potent time for magic and communion with spirits. The "veil between the worlds" of the living and the dead is said to be at its thinnest on this day; especially between dawn and dusk. Therefore this has traditionally been a time to honour our ancestors and embrace our roots. Ancestors were invited to join in the celebrations and feasting following the last of the harvest.

On Samhain, as with all the best celebrations, bonfires were lit. The bonfires were to warm friendly spirits and ward off evil spirits, and also represented the sun, which people wished would return, bringing heat and growth.

A 'new' fire was kindled from the bonfire for the New Year and brought into the household for good luck. These fires were believed to keep the homes happy and free from any lost evil spirits. The flickering candles inside hollowed out pumpkins help the spirits to find their way. Dressing in scary costumes [ghosts, skeletons etc.] was done to escort wandering spirits to the edge of the town at the end of the evening's festivities. Because this was also considered to be the beginning of the New Year, Divination foretelling the future, looking toward the coming year became a part of the celebration.

Young people divining for their future husbands and wives performed many of the customs. Apples often figured due to their connection with fertility. An old belief is that by peeling an apple on Samhain and keeping the peel in one piece, then throwing it over your shoulder you will discover the initials of a future lover. Ducking or bobbing for apples was a marriage divination. The first person to bite an apple would be the first to marry in the coming year. Young girls would stick apple pips to the outside of her cheek, with each one standing for her sweethearts. The last pip that stayed stuck was her true love.
