July 2018

July 2018 and up until the 12th of the month Hawkwood is undertaking a crowd funding campaign. The aim is to bring together 28 artists and - for the first time ever - change-makers for 5-day creative residencies. For further details of the campaign log on to www.hawkwoodcollege.co.uk

Earth Energies, Anti-Gravity and Vile Vortexes

By Marian Matthews

Our Earth is teeming with powerful energies, they act and interact with us and each other. Scientifically respectable are gravitational and magnetic but there, more controversially, is also the crystalline matrix.

Gravity holds us in position around the sun and holds the moon in position orbiting us. It is a force which acts on all bodies binding our solar system together. Earth's metal core generates our magnetosphere. We are like a gigantic bar magnet with a North and South Pole. Both forces generate measurable grids of energy around and through the Earth.

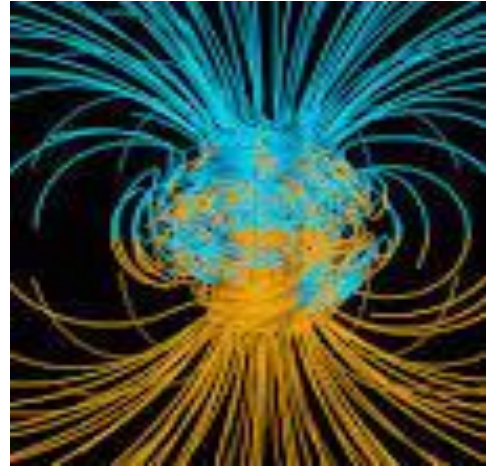

Gravitational and magnetic forces vary in strength. Gravity varies with the type of medium it is moving through and the height of the terrain. Similarly magnetism varies with the type of strata it is moving through. These imbalances in energies create flows which are then twisted as the world turns (Coriolis Effect) and energy vortexes can form, large or small. These can be detected by dowsing.

Magnetism is interesting because in any bar magnet there is a point, near where the flow switches from north to south, or positive to negative, when the flow weakens. It is called a Bloch wall. This may result in something called diamagnetism.

Diamagnetism

As Richard Lefors Clark PHD explains in, Anti-gravity and the world grid, Diamagnetism is essentially a magnetic-neutral zone existing between a north and south magnetic field. He explains that diamagnetism is also the root of anti-gravity. He also believes that there are many magnetic flow reversal points on the Earth marked by grid points, where strange phenomena, and disappearances, are often reported, such as the so called Bermuda Triangle.

He states that "Diamagnetism operates at 90% from magnetic, but in 3 directions, and not flat and two dimensional as usually drawn, If magnetism flows in the plane of the Earth's surface, then diamagnetism flows straight up. Straight up is the direction that we call levitation or anti-gravity."

These vortexes (Vile vortexes) are allegedly known about and used, but kept secret and even fought over by our scientist and military establishments. The ancients and previous civilizations seemed also to have some knowledge about them. They can be harnessed and there is also a belief in some circles that they are also portals into other dimensions. If you wander into them, you may find yourselves space dust or living in a parallel dimension!

Crystalline Earth grid

There is also the theory that a matrix of cosmic energy was built into the Earth at the time it was formed, traces of which can still be seen today. There were 12 pentagonal slabs, a dodecahedron. Overlaid are 20 equilateral triangles. This entire structure can be seen in the siting of ancient civilisations, earth faults and magnetic anomalies etc. The vile vortexes are often to be found at the triangle interactions.

Gaia

There are also the energies of Gaia to add to the Earth energies mix. If our planet is in fact, as many believe, a sentient being, then her subtle or spiritual energies play a part in our reality. They seep up through the cracks and fault lines and along ley lines adding spiritual energies to the electromagnetic flows. This is probably also why so many churches, temples and burial grounds are built on these lines and places.

There are probably many more Earth energies that our scientific instruments cannot yet detect. We are energy beings living in a sea of energy!

Book Review – Spirit and Earth: A Handbook for Modern Holistic Living

By Adrian Incedon-Webber and Tim
Walter

Written in a down to earth manner this is a book that will help people who are already on their spiritual pathway and also those who are seeking to change their life but don't know in which direction to go.

Working with subtleties that can be accessed through meditation, mindfulness and dowsing this book shows how the power of focused intent can be harnessed to improve the relationship between humans, buildings, nature and Mother Earth in simple, practical ways. We learn how to work with the energy patterns of the earth as well as incorporating spirit into everything we do. Combining these two powerful aspects can bring much greater clarity in daily living.

The chapter on the Angelic realms puts a modern slant on who and what angels actually are, how they can help us and how we can help them. The book also considers guardians, spirit guides, tele-porting, working with trees, Mother Nature, holy and sacred sites.

The authors have spent decades helping people subtly change the way they function in their homes and here they share their experience, knowledge and philosophy to illustrate how, by changing the perceptions of our lives through truly holistic thinking, creating a sustained positive relationship with everything around us.

The book is available as a kindle version from Amazon or is available signed by the authors from their websites: www.dowsingspirits.co.uk or www.knightsrose.com
