VOLUME 16, ISSUE 6

June 2021

June 2021 sees an increase in the number of in-person events as well as the summer solstice, earmarking the longest day in the Northern Hemisphere. Named after the Roman Goddess Juno and associated with the Greek Goddess Hera, June symbolises growth. June 2nd is International Freedom Day; a day for re-asserting God given rights and freedoms in the face of tyranny.

Politics for Healing and Transformation

By Graham John

There is enough for everyone's need but not for everybody's greed.... Mahatma Gandhi

Political negotiation has historically and still is largely based upon strategies of mistrust that are themselves based on three assumptions.

The first is that we are separate from each other. The second is that there are not enough resources for everyone, and the third is that the outcome of any negotiation results in having a winner and a loser.

The last two thousand years has seen the emergence of powerful institutional structures influencing or governing all aspects of human affairs (political, religious, business, health...etc). Over time these institutions have created their own energetic signatures through the ways in which they have operated; a reflection of the levels of consciousness of those individuals working within them, as well as underlying organisational culture.

The incoming Aquarian age requires us to work together (whoever we are and whatever we do) to tackle challenges that are global in context. Rather than working from positions of mistrust, separation, self interest and resisting change, we are asked to move forward in a different and higher way.

The adoption of a holistic world view, one that has no place for interactions based upon fear and inhibition is our starting point. We must acknowledge that everything is connected and allow energy to flow instead of blocking its movement through actions of vested interest.

Individually and collectively the process starts with us living through the higher aspects of the self; through a sense of compassion, equity and respect for all life. Intellectually we have to let go of what we think is right and be prepared to surrender to the Universe, allowing it to guide us intuitively. If we envisage ourselves as part of a creative unified whole we have a platform from which to move forward and through the idea of unity, we begin to live with the understanding that everything is connected, flowing and dynamic.

Political interaction provides humanity with an opportunity for spiritual growth if we understand that we are not separate, that there are enough resources if we share them and that their needn't be winners and losers, just winners. Successful political interaction based on unity will bring more meaning to our lives as we are driven forward with a higher sense of purpose

Unicorns

By Margaret Merrison

The subject of legend and enchantment in both the Eastern and Western mythological traditions, Unicorns are also mentioned in the Bible and in the work of JK Rowling (Harry Potter). One can also be found on the Royal Arms of Great Britain standing opposite the Lion.

Creatures of the etheric, many Unicorns are now making themselves known and are looking to connect with humans, linking with some as their personal helpers. They are coming to this planet at the present time to help us raise our energy vibrations and that of the Earth.

Unicorns have a beautiful, playful, pure energy and they love to have fun. These magnificent horses with a spiralling golden horn of pure light radiating from their third eye chakra, are associated with energy vibrations that are much higher than the speed of sound or light, so that we cannot normally see or hear them. Like Angels, we can feel their presence and also have a knowing that they are with us and want to help us.
