

MESSAGES FROM THE ELOHIEM
Channelled by Gailelaine (Angeleyes)

Welcome to this auspicious time in the universe.

You all thought you were helping earth birth but by embodying the light that comes into your atmosphere you are working for an evolutionary change within the universe, expansion through the nothingness is happening, expanding, changing and evolving, some matter takes millions of your years.

The atoms within your own solar system have been enhanced to embody the vibrations of love,...as within this vibration is expansion of bliss, as you name it.

Your innerselves have been transmitting information back to your place of decent into earths atmosphere, for as the higher realms have learned of your human life this has been a time of renewing connections. To your star light.

You were all crafted by the light in different degrees, all programmed, but this is an earth word which undermines the importance of your souls journey. You were crafted for different tasks, your animal incarnation was important for the information we received.

We give each one of you, which was your choice, different life cycles, under water on land and flying through the thermals, all have been animals and so you then became humans.

Each incarnation has been learning's and teachings for the next. You have always been held in the light whilst these lives were acted out.

*We watched as you have felt your way through each life cycle
We now have an enormous amount of light for earth's progress.*

You have a main understanding of light vibrations and different frequencies as we have released energies that have sifted through you and realized new feelings that run through your earthly bodies that house you, unlocking your soul's nature.

Each one of you is earth incarnate; each earthly body is made from the same elements as earth. As each one of you grows to the stage of your dying, your soul is, as a seed jettisons forward with enormous knowledge, together with earthy knowledge and soul knowledge you come back into the collective vibration of love, which is a million times stronger than it is in earth life.

Your task is to lift earth in a love vibration, as each one of you becomes lighter in frequencies, love then can take an enormous hold on all around you so creating an energy field of lightness, brightness and peace thus bringing in new colours and information of love.

There are also planets that are not visible to the earthly eye, which you affect with your emotions. The more joy you feel, the more they become visible, and as you take in the light and enter the dream time, the more love floats into your souls, so giving you clarity of your flowing beauty.

We the Elohiem have guided many and prepared many for the evolutionary step in this time, in the great turning tides of energy that floats within your life span, all are now being prepared for the reverse of the great fall that occurred eons ago. Breathe in my light and hold fast as you are all loved and kept in the light shower of frequencies that are descending into your atmosphere at this time, and the next year. You are now being bathed in a cloak of remembrance of an accumulation of your different incarnations. You were the seas, streams and lakes that entered earth, you know water as you have been water, so leaned of the motion stillness and flow. The tide is now turning and your inner self knows how your colours change moment by moment helping to enhance your coded selves, you have been only colour drifting in unison with breath before this universe began. You have all knowledge written within your DNA as you floated through the universe, you gathered all information for the journey you undertook.

You lived as crystals on different universes, crystals hold memories of love, some of you chose to live within planets of crystal, collecting and imparting of the knowledge and wisdom which you as crystals had embodied.

A thousand souls at a time lived within a tree to embody energies and truth of life as a tree. As well as water, trees, and colour you have been rocks, mountains, flowers, air, clouds - all that exists and so in your dream times you become one with all, as you are encoded within, the knowledge of all.

And so the knowledge enhanced your creativeness to create for earth life.

Subtle frequencies of love drift gently in the breeze dropping through the senses and entering soul's graces. Refreshing and renewing the call of wonderment and devotion to the aliveness of the universal knowledge.

Breathe me in; feel my essence as the deepness of loves peace flows deeper into Gods presence within.

I AM your breath, I AM your heart, I AM life and I AM forever, flowing, renewing and giving joy from the centre of life.
